Unlock You Child's Full Potential

BY GIVING ONE-ON-ONE
ATTENTION HE/ SHE DESERVES.

The way a child prefers to learn is called his/ her learning style. There is no right or wrong, good or bad learning style—it has nothing to do with intelligence or skill. It has everything to do with the way a child's brain works to learn and store information efficiently. Since everyone learns differently, understanding learning styles can help you become a better learner. At Tutor24x7 we really work with the child based on their learning style and take them ahead to unchartered learning. Concentration can be one of the most difficult aspects of success to master. In our media bombarded society, we have been programmed by commercials, advertisements, and music to take in as much as we can in the shortest amount of time and then move on to the next stimuli. But if the child can gain control of his/ her thoughts, the efficiency as well as overall performance can be improved.

Statistics reveals that 80% of what a child learns in class is forgotten within 24 hours. That means by the time he starts studying for those finals, he's not reviewing for a test, he's relearning the material. That is a waste of his time. One way to keep key points and ideas in your brain is to review what you have learned. Your notes will play a major role in memorization and review. At Tutor24x7 the student will be introduced to simple ways of remembering concepts, lists, and ideas.
